

THE DAILY MISSOURIAN

NINTH YEAR

COLUMBIA, MISSOURI, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1916

NUMBER 5

STEPHENS WILL OPEN WITH 350 STUDENTS

Lack of Dormitories Prevents Doubling of Number, Says President.

RUN SPECIAL TRAIN

Session Starts September 12—Changes Are Made in the Faculty.

Stephens College will open for its 59th year on September 12 with a record enrollment of between 300 and 350, and with its dormitories crowded to their capacity. Following the two days of registration, and a reception by the former students for the new students on Wednesday night, class work will begin Thursday, September 14.

President Wood said that if the College had the dormitories necessary, the enrollment could have easily been doubled, for on August 1 it was necessary to advertise that no more reservations could be accepted for dormitory rooms. This is the only school west of the Mississippi that ever found it necessary to advertise an overcrowded condition as early as August 1.

Special parlor cars for the accommodation of Stephens College students will be run from St. Louis, Kansas City, and Parsons, Kan. They will be in charge of the members of the faculty.

There will be several new members of the faculty this year. Miss Agnes Husband of Chicago will be at the head of the Voice Department. She has had training in United States, Italy and France, and has taught at a number of colleges in this country. Miss Lillian Wilhelm, who has for the last five years been in charge of the music in the model public school system in Gary, Ind., will assist Miss Husband. Miss Hazel Day, a graduate of the University of Kansas, will have charge of the science work. Miss Nelle McGhee, a graduate of the University of Missouri and post-graduate of Columbia University will take care of the home economics department. Miss Ethel May Hill, who has done graduate work in Columbia University, will assist in physical education.

The faculty members who will return are: Miss Sarah F. Anderson, professor of Bible study; Miss Eva M. West, professor of English; Mrs. Pearl Beauchamp, professor of Latin; E. A. Collins, instructor of mathematics; Miss Josephine M. Barlow, professor of expression; Miss Laura Argue, professor of history; Miss Anne Douglass, librarian; Miss Ardenia Chapman, assistant in home economics; Miss Mary Barnett, instructor in Germanic languages; Miss Madeline Flint, instructor in art; Miss Jessie Kite, instructor in physical education; Basil D. Gauntlett, director of the Conservatory of Music; and professor of piano; Miss Blanche Preston, instructor in piano; Miss Fannie May Ross, instructor in piano; Miss Winifred Moore, instructor in theory and piano; George Venable, instructor in piano and orchestral instruments; Miss Mirtle Lecompte, instructor in piano; Miss Maymie Geesing, instructor in piano; Miss Ella Holt, matron; Miss Jessie Kyd, dormitory supervisor; Roy T. Davis, secretary and business manager.

VILLA READY TO ATTACK U. S.

Bandit and 1,500 Men Reported Massing Near American Outposts.

By United Press. EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 7.—General Pershing, acting upon a suggestion from General Funston, is reported hurrying back to field headquarters from Columbus, N. Mex., following reliable information given to military authorities here that Villa with 1,500 men fully supplied with arms and ammunition was massing them 100 miles from the American outposts.

Fears are openly expressed here that Villa in a desperate effort to discredit Carranza will sacrifice part of his command by sending it against the outposts of the American expeditionary force. The Yaqui Indians in the district between Navajos and Guaymas are on the warpath, killing nearly 100 ranchers and devastating a large territory, according to a report brought here by a Carranza agent, sent to divide the land of the peons.

TO GIVE FINANCIAL AID

Commission to Discuss Extensive Help for Mexico at Meeting.

By United Press. NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 7.—Extensive financial aid for Mexico will be one of the vital problems of the American-Mexican commission. Every effort will be made to avoid anything that suggests benevolence. But if there are assurances of reaching stable conditions below the Rio Grande then the American government will lend its moral support to the flotation of a big Mexican loan in this country.

This was learned reliably today after the American and Mexican commissioners recessed until tomorrow. There was no joint session today. Instead the Mexican commissioners delved into data on border subjects, and the American commissioners planned an informal session on questions presented yesterday. The American commissioners are optimistic over the outcome of the conferences.

SANTE FE REFUSES TO OBEY 8-HOUR LAW

Western Railroad Won't Comply Until Commanded by Highest Court.

COST IS TOO GREAT

"It Means Increase of 25 Per Cent in Wages," Says President Ripley.

By United Press. TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 7.—The Santa Fe Railroad will not comply with the Adamson 8-hour law until commanded to do so by the court of last resort.

This was learned definitely here this afternoon, following a formal statement issued by President Ripley of the Santa Fe. "The new law, hastily enacted by Congress, is nothing more or less than an advance of 20 to 25 per cent in the wages of the best paid men in the railway service," President Ripley said. "The Santa Fe will not comply with the law until ordered to do so by the court of last resort."

Ripley said that any other class of railroad workers is entitled to more money than the trainmen. The Santa Fe head was here today with other officials attending the funeral of Chas. W. Kouns, late general manager of the Eastern lines.

Fred C. Fox was appointed to succeed Kouns. Samuel O. Rice of Kansas City, a former student of the University of Missouri who for more than five years has been with the Kansas City Star, has been appointed associate professor of journalism in charge of publicity of the University of Kansas. The appointment of Mr. Rice fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of Merle Thorpe, who accepted a position with the Nation's Business.

While a student in the University, Mr. Rice was newspaper correspondent for several papers, and he spent his vacations on metropolitan or small town dailies. Mr. Rice, before accepting a position with the Kansas City Star, worked on the St. Louis Republic and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

New Organization Will Work for Better Athletics at State University.

5 CHARTER MEMBERS

Club Gets Approval of President Hill Before Adopting a Constitution.

The Missouri Co-Operative League, an organization formed by the business men of this city in the interest of the University, was organized last night at the Elks Club.

The purpose of the new organization will be to advertise the University among the high schools of the state, and to work for clean athletics. The movement had the approval of President A. Ross Hill, of the University, and the Missouri Athletic Department.

"We want to have the best athletics in the West here at this University," said one of the members, "and will endeavor to get the best material from the high schools of the state fitted into this University. We think, too, that the movement will give more of the right kind of publicity to the schools of the city, and that the enrollment will be considerably increased."

W. B. Nowell, Jr., was elected president, H. A. Collier, vice-president, J. R. Somerville, secretary, and J. W. Sapp, treasurer. The charter members selected the following directors: E. S. Stephens, J. O. Bateman, H. S. Jacks, George A. Evans, and H. H. Broadhead.

The membership committee was appointed, and will begin their campaign work at once. The committee is composed of Jack Collier, Ira Stone, I. A. Barth, Harry Jacks, and H. M. McPheeters.

FORD SUES PAPER FOR $1,000,000

Claims He Was Called Anarchist—Chicago Tribune Defendant.

By United Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Henry Ford, millionaire automobile manufacturer and pacifist, filed suit in the United States District Court today against the Chicago Tribune, suit for $1,000,000 damages. In his petition Ford alleged that the Tribune libeled him by calling him "an anarchist."

Ford's suit is based on an editorial that appeared in the Tribune, June 2, 1916, under a caption, "Ford is an Anarchist." The editorial was based on a story that Ford would discharge all his employees who joined the National Guard to go to the Mexican border. The petition declared that "this is not even a true fact."

URGES CO-OPERATION OF CITY AND SCHOOL

President A. Ross Hill of the University Talks to Commercial Club.

"M. U. NEEDS MONEY"

Says Columbians Appreciate Opportunities M. U. Gives Them.

"The relation Columbia holds to the State University may be reviewed from so many angles that it is quite impossible to cover the entire ground in one luncheon talk," said A. Ross Hill, president of the University today in a speech at the Commercial Club luncheon at Harris.

"The town should be so well kept in general that it will attract the visitor and convince the prospective student and his parents that it is a desirable place to live in; its sanitary provisions and regulations should be such that the health of students can be easily safeguarded during their period of residence here; and the forms of amusement and recreation that the town affords should be such as will elevate rather than lower the ideals of life and encourage the development of those habits that university training is meant to foster and establish in the youth who are to be leaders in state service after their training here."

"Happily Columbia has done much in these directions during the last decade. There are still some details to be worked out but in the main the town and the individual citizens of the town have taken such forethought in these matters that we can lay claim to having one of the most attractive, healthful and morally wholesome university seats in America."

"M. U. Needs More Money."

"The great need in our situation is more money with which to furnish adequate facilities for the instruction of the increasing number of students who flock to Columbia. The day has gone by when we need to directly concern ourselves with efforts to secure increased enrollment. An attractive city and the national reputation of the University of Missouri will bring numbers as the population and wealth of Missouri and the Southwest increases. But the standing of the University can be maintained and advanced only by securing funds that are comparable with those supplied to other state universities in its class. What is the situation today? The state appropriations for the University of Illinois and for the University of Wisconsin are each four times those of Missouri, while Michigan and Minnesota get three times as much as Missouri, though in Michigan both the College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts and the School of Mines are separate institutions. Those of us responsible for the administration of the University can well be proud of the standing attained by this University under these financial conditions. The situation is briefly this: No other state in the Union is getting such returns for its investments in its state university."

People Should Back University.

Now what can Columbia do in this matter of appropriations? The State University is not in any sense a sectional institution. It cannot succeed in securing appropriations by log-rolling or trading for it has no sectional support. It ought to and it must win on its merits only. Columbia people should be more familiar with its merits and be able and ready at all times to defend its good name. Its benefits to Columbia are general and as it must be administered in the interests of the entire state, no individual citizen or class of citizens in Columbia can look for direct and personal advantage from the expenditure of the University funds or from the organized activities of the students. But the existence of the University in Columbia and its general prosperity are vital to the interests of the entire town and all its citizens. Any action tending to discredit the University before the people of Missouri is disloyalty to the town of Columbia.

The University is embarrassed at practically every session of the Legislature by false rumors regarding extravagance and irregularities in the expenditure of funds and most of these falsehoods are started in Columbia. They are always exploded when the University gets its hearing before leg-
